Operation Roaring Lion
Jewish Agency Needs Document
Draft as of March 1, 2026

On Saturday February 28, Israel, the United States and Iran entered into a new war entitled "Operation Roaring Lion". Iran retaliated to Israel's attack in the form of hundreds of long-range ballistic missiles that have already caused massive damage to Israel's civilian population and infrastructure and resulted in ten lives lost and more than 130 injured.

The Jewish Agency, in coordination with the national emergency authorities, local municipalities, beneficiaries and partners has identified the following emergency needs:

1. Emergency Fund for Roaring Lion
   For decades, The Jewish Agency has supported the people of Israel during times of crisis. As we have in the past, The Jewish Agency and its partners will show solidarity with the victims, municipalities and resiliency needs resulting from the Iranian missile attacks. The fund consists of three elements:
   a. Financial assistance to bereaved families, injured parties and destruction of property including both immediate and rehabilitation grants.
   b. Special assistance and group interventions, in partnership with municipalities, for those that have lost their homes/evacuees including strengthening resilience.
   c. Assistance for populations requiring extra support like elderly or children.

   Total Estimated Need Based on 300 immediate grants: $3,700,000
   Total Estimated Need Based on 500 immediate grants: $4,500,000
   Total Estimated Need Based on 1000 immediate grants: $6,300,000
   Total Estimated Need Based on 2000 immediate grants: $10,100,000

2. Jewish Agency Beneficiaries
   The Jewish Agency has two population groups living under its care that rely on the organization for housing, safety and support: New immigrants (Olim) living in Absorption Centers and the elderly residents of Amigour Housing.
   a. Amigour- as a result of the war, residents of Amigour homes have not been able to leave their homes to buy food or other essentials. Amigour is asking for food packages to deliver to its residents.
   b. Olim- Olim in absorption centers are stuck for long hours in shelters. We are asking for assistance in activities for children in shelters as well as mental health assistance for Olim who have and will be impacted by the events.
   Total Estimated Need: $600,000

3. Financial Assistance for Participants of Israel Experience Programs
   There are currently 6,000 young people in Israel participating in Israel Experience programs (Masa, Onward, Birthright, etc.) Many of them are facing challenges as they are stuck in Israel for an unknown length of time. Some require temporary housing and some are looking to return to their countries of origin. Recognizing that it will take time for airlines to resume flying regular routes, many participants will require financial assistance in flying out of Israel to reach Athens or Cyprus to increase their chances of returning home quickly. The Jewish Agency would like to provide financial assistance for those who cannot afford the additional costs of an extended, unplanned stay in Israel.
